

For the first time the ETCA - Endoscopic Training Centre Antwerp - organises on Thursday, April 25, 2024 during its Masterclass 'Hysteroscopy & Ultrasound – Building Bridges' a specific day for nurses!

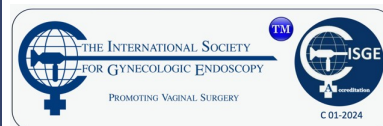

All nurses with an interest in ambulatory and operative hysteroscopy are welcome.

Ambulatory gynecological examinations and procedures have rapidly evolved in recent years. They are increasingly performed without general anesthesia, in an outpatient setting. Despite the numerous benefits that arise from this progression for women, healthcare providers, and the broader healthcare system, there are also challenges and uncertainties. Surgical interventions often follow outpatient care. Knowledge and the proper use of equipment are crucial.

During this Masterclass, we aim to encourage everyone to collaboratively consider how everything can proceed in the best interest of the patient, maintaining both quality and a pleasant experience.

This Masterclass is interactive. Through brief presentations, the key themes will be introduced, followed by a practical hysteroscopy workshop where participants can familiarize themselves with some of the latest technologies. At the end of the day, time will be allocated for discussion and the exchange of experiences.

Nurses are also welcome to attend the Masterclass lectures on Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27 2024.
